

You're already working hard. Why not also work smart?

RevelationLegal-i is a web-based solution for legal professionals that delivers unprecedented vision into your day-to-day work life.

Understanding how you spend your time—and the value associated with it—can bring untold revelations, whether you're a sole practitioner, managing partner, practice group leader or administrative professional.

How can you work more effectively and increase productivity?

What changes can you make to recoup lost time?

To help you reveal these opportunities, ofPartner has developed RevelationLegal-i, an extension of RevelationLegal, our revolutionary analysis tool designed for legal and administrative teams—even entire firms. We created this “i”ndividual version to empower you to improve your own productivity and effectiveness—all without a burdensome investment of time or money.

RevelationLegal-i identifies real opportunities.

Are you...

A sole practitioner who needs a roadmap to greater productivity and profitability?

A head of finance, marketing, HR or other administrative department seeking development opportunities for yourself or your team?

A managing partner or practice group leader looking for ways to get more value out of the hours you and your colleagues log every day?

Essential Insight—
That's RevelationLegal-i

RevelationLegal-i transforms job-related data into an actionable report that helps you improve performance and effectiveness. Here's how:

Knowledge is power: Our simple online questionnaire helps you identify and analyze the activities you perform during a typical year. Seeing clearly how you spend your time (and the corresponding value of those hours) is where it all starts.

Minimal investment, maximum return: Give us a few minutes, and we'll deliver a view into your workday that can transform you as a professional and impact your bottom line.

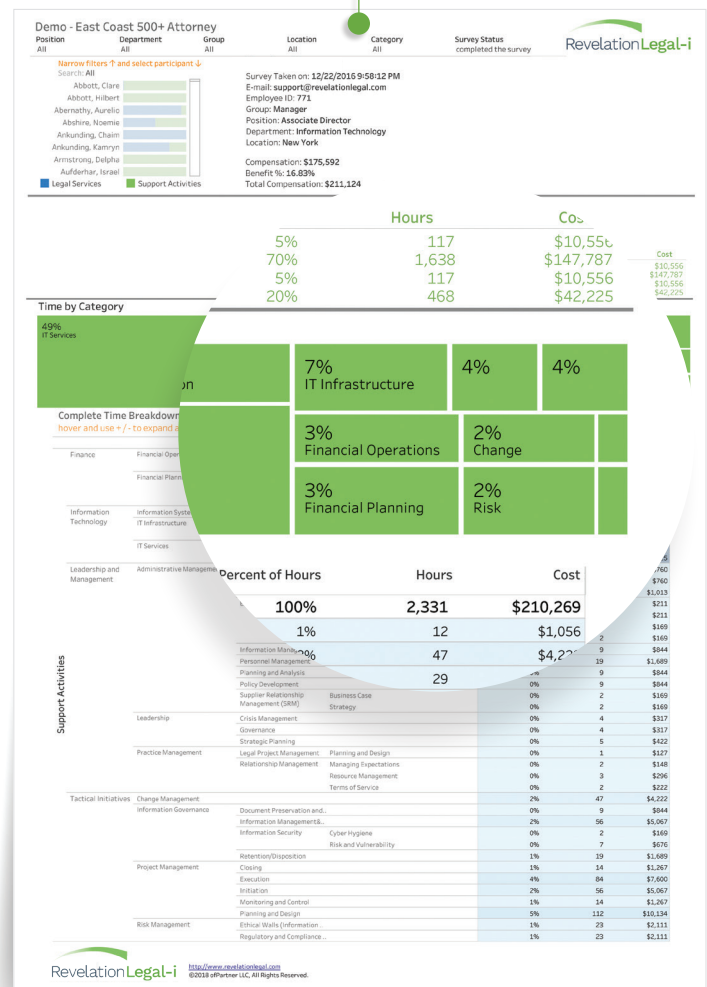

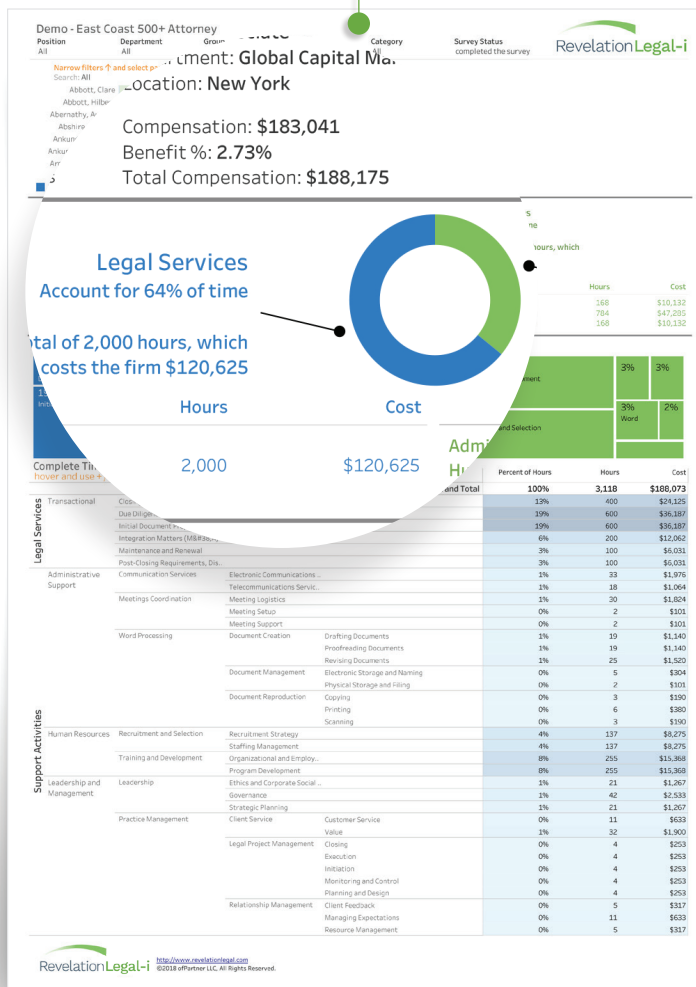

Roadmap to greater productivity: View the results and analysis from every angle. Leverage the report to pinpoint gaps in productivity, identify strategic opportunities and refocus your time on higher-value activities.

Secure, private and in the cloud: Our systems utilize state-of-the-art cloud technologies to enable unique and powerful analysis in a safe and secure environment.

RevelationLegal-i reports are detailed, comprehensive and actionable.
